

Dear poster presenters,

the organizing Associations of the XL EABCT Conference – LINKS are glad to announce you that PSYCHOMED, an Italian scientific journal published online (www.crpitalia.eu/psychomedeng.html), is going to publish a selection of your posters on a special issue devoted to our Conference.

PSYCHOMED (ISSN: 1828-1516) is a journal supported by national Italian associations in psychosocial and behavioural medicine, psychotherapy, health promotion and community psychosocial interventions; therefore, it gathers contributions focused on subjects in between medicine and behavioural sciences. The journal's aims are to provide an easy-to-use tool for scientific updating; besides, it is intended as a forum for discussion for those who work or study this area and is meant to become a training ground for all colleagues engaged in clinical work and experimental research.

Those of you who wish to have their own poster published on PSYCHOMED should submit, after the Conference, a copy of their poster by sending the file used to produce it to the journal editorial Secretary Dr. D. Kakaraki: psychomed@crpitalia.eu; the file should be in pps (powerpoint) or MS Word format, while PDF or graphic formats (jpeg, gif, etc) will not be accepted.

The publication of your poster is fairly quick, albeit it isn't granted: the editorial committee may ask you some changes, or (rarely) may reject the poster at all.
